NEW! COLOURMUNKI PHOTO

New from X-Rite, the neat little ColourMunki Photo offers social and wedding photographers an easy way to get a grip on their colour management. Described as the "do everything, go anywhere" solution, the ColourMunki allows the user to match colours from their display to their prints, ensuring accurate colour reproduction each time.

There's also the option to capture colour palettes from images or other objects – so you can confidently match your headed notepaper with your website as well as delivering correctly coloured prints.

Available for £375 inc VAT, the ColourMunki Photo will start shipping in March.
